

When printing a booklet from a mac there are 2 ways of doing it if its single pages then use the booklet setting under printing features and set the booklet size to the size you want the folded booklet to be like below.

If it is already set up as a booklet then you just need to set the stapling settings under the printing features and set it to saddle stich like in the picture below

